S477.001	Te Waka Pupuri Putea Trust	General / Process	Not Stated	Whilst we are broadly supportive of the changes to the District Plan as proposed, we would like to comment on the broader planning context. The District Plan review process is well overdue, and we are generally supportive of the review given this. However, it should be noted that given the review of the overall resource management system and planning frameworks within Aotearoa currently, we are of the position that the timing of the District Plan review process could have been more considered. We wish to state that given that the proposed	Amend the Plan as required to ensure that it has regard to pending reforms and statutory documents as required - such as the repeal of the Resource Management Act, and various National Policy Statements and National Environmental Standards. 				District Plan is likely to become operative under the Resource Management Act 1991, the proposed changes should be cognisant of the inevitability of the Natural and Built Resources Act (or whichever moniker is eventually adopted) and other relevant Acts and planning instruments that are proposed by the resource management review process currently being undertaken by central government. There are a suite of National Policy Statements and National Environmental Standards currently under consideration that the District Plan will be legislatively required to enact once operative. We would like to iterate that the proposed District Plan should be forward thinking in its intent and consider these and any other relevant developments.

S276.001	Russell Landcare Trust	General / Process	Support in part	The Plan is difficult to follow and this online portal makes it difficult for lay-people to make submissions and be involved in the process. There are too many drop boxes, which are compulsory fields. Many people do not have a computer with two screens - in practice, this is necessary so one screen can be used to view the Plan while the submission form is being completed. We accept that receiving submissions in this format simplifies matters for FNDC staff but it comes at the cost of effective public consultation. Our comments on the Draft Plan are attached. In this submission, we request that these matters be addressed.	Not stated	Reject		Section 5.2.8 - Submissions that sit outside the scope of the district plan

While this may be the intent of the overlays, in some instances in the Proposed Plan for overlay provisions, reference is made to 'the site'; the potential implication being that the overlay provisions apply to the site as a whole. In many instances, overlays apply to part of but not the whole of the site. Applying the provisions to the site as a whole in these situations would not serve the resource management purpose of the overlay. In addition to the above, the following part of the explanation is necessary to specify that overlay chapters do not contain all the provisions relating to an activity. For example, residential activity may not be provided for in the overlay, but is provided for in the underlying zoning:

The Proposed District Plan allows development up to the permitted activity levels without mitigation of adverse effects. The Matters of Discretion in the zone and subdivision rules provide no guidance on how stormwater is to be controlled when the standard is breached - is it intended for stormwater control to achieve the standards in the draft Engineering Standards (refer attached comments on Engineering Standards), attenuate stormwater to permitted activity levels (as in the Operative District Plan) or to pre-development levels, or simply to ensure there are no adverse effects off site (and if so, what adverse effects need to be addressed)? 				projects are going to be breaching one rule or another. This adds I would estimate $10,000 to any home build, by the time a planning report is done, other supporting documents are sought and the council fees for processing are paid. The entire district is being choked by FNDC's inability to process Resource Consents in a timely manner, and we're waiting the best part of a year to finally get Resource Consents issued. Some Chapters include notes which provide some clarity in this regard (e.g. Heritage Overlay) however this isn't consistently applied through the overlays or the District Wide Chapters generally. Some overlays include a catch all 'activities not otherwise specified' activity status (e.g. Treaty Settlement Land Overlay). Some overlays don't. This lack of consistency (coupled with inconsistent terminology) will cause confusion for Plan users and ultimately, impact the integrity of the plan. This is particularly relevant in the Overlay chapters where each Overlay chapter has a different approach to activity status default rules. With specific regard to the permitted activity default, it is noted that this could lead unintentional consequences.

S187.001	The Shooting Box Limited	Applications Subject to Multiple Provisions	Support in part	As described in the National Planning Standard 2019, an overlay spatially identifies distinctive values, risks or other factors which require management in a different manner from underlying zone provisions. It follows that the provisions relating to the overlay only apply to that part of a site so mapped. While this may be the intent of the overlays, in some instances in the Proposed Plan for overlay provisions, reference is made to 'the site'; the potential implication being that the overlay provisions apply to the site as a whole. In many instances, overlays apply to part of but not the whole of the site. Applying the provisions to the site as a whole in these situations would not serve the resource management purpose of the overlay. In addition to the above, it is necessary to specify	Insert a new clause within 'Applications Subject to Multiple Provisions', specifying that if an overlay is shown on the Planning Maps, the overlay provisions only apply to the portion of the property covered by the overlay	Reject		Section 5.2.3 – How the Plan works

Game bird hunting begins at 6:30am in the morning and concludes at 6:30pm at night for the length of the season. Introducing new dwelling areas near areas of recreational significance to hunters can have implications on the future of hunting in these areas. For example, complaints can be made under the Arms Act 1983 which makes clear that anyone discharging a firearm in a public place so as to deliberately endanger, frighten or annoy any other person is guilty of an offence. Shotgun noise may also be a particular issue for public places such as any equestrian arena in the vicinity of maimai used during the game bird hunting season.
